With four regional headquarters and six satellite offices positioned strategically throughout the state, Ben Franklin Technology Partners builds on regional strengths, capitalizes on new opportunities and addresses the specific needs of diverse communities. Our impact, through the advances and successes of our client companies, reaches throughout Pennsylvania and beyond—as evidenced by alumni companies that have expanded into international operations, revolutionized entire industries, tackled global health issues and changed the way businesses operate and people communicate.

REGIONAL FOCUS. STATEWIDE STRENGTH. GLOBAL IMPACT.
Ben Franklin Technology Partners (BFTP) was founded on December 6, 1982 by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and a group of private organizations. The goal was to establish an independent, non-profit organization that would provide strategic advice and startup capital to early-stage technology firms. Since then, BFTP has played a central role in the Commonwealth's transition to a globally competitive knowledge-based economy. The success of BFTP's portfolio has been recognized with numerous awards and commendations from the President, U.S. Dept. of Commerce, and a number of leading public and private organizations.

On December 6, 2011, BFTP celebrated its 30th anniversary. The past decade has seen significant growth, new investments and a higher Gross State Product. The Pennsylvania economy, which was ranked 49th in the nation in 1982, now ranks 10th. The success of BFTP's portfolio has been recognized with numerous awards and commendations from the President, U.S. Dept. of Commerce, and a number of leading public and private organizations.
